improvement from 1.8% growth in 2005 and 0.7% growth in 2004. This economic growth helped the Argentine stock market in 2006, with the Merval Index increasing by 25.9% during the year. The Argentine peso fell by 1.3% against the dollar in 2006, the first time the peso has dropped against the dollar since 2002.Q: how can i split a string up to a certain character I want to split a string up to the first occurrence of a certain character. For example, I have a string like this: "Ich wohne mit " This should return: "Ich wohne mit " A: You can use this regular expression to find the first two occurrences of : string.Split("\ \".Replace("\ ", Environment.NewLine).Replace("\ ", "")); The string.Split() will split the string into an array of strings based on the regular expression. The Replace() will remove the first two instances of the so you will have an array containing "Ich
